CODE LAB SPONSORSHIP MANUAL

THE CONFERENCE FOR CURIOUS RAILS
DEVELOPERS

22-23 APRIL 2013, KRAKOW, POLAND

The Conference for CURIOUS Rails DEVELOPERS

The newborn Railsberry 2012 was fantabulous. It was improvised, extremely rewarding and we knew it wouldn't be the last time we get to host so many tech friends in Krakow.

Here we go again. We like to shake things up so let's move from our kitchen to a lab and start playing with explosives. We want to experiment with a new formula and challenge Rails developers to focus on everything BUT Rails. We want to mix flavors and technologies and try things we never played with. And we will make sure there are some explosions. Protective gear is recommended, let's get our hands (& keyboards) dirty!

Krakow is a city of students - 210 000 of them! Great tech universities attract curious souls who want to "deploy themselves" in the world. We're also told people love visiting Krakow. It's beautiful, has an amazing vibe and the sweetest people ;-)

WANT TO ADD A PINCH OF YOUR MAGIC TO OUR SECRET FORMULA?

Have another mixture in mind? As long as nothing is going to explode (badly), we can probably make it happen. We love experiments.
